

RING SIZING GUIDE

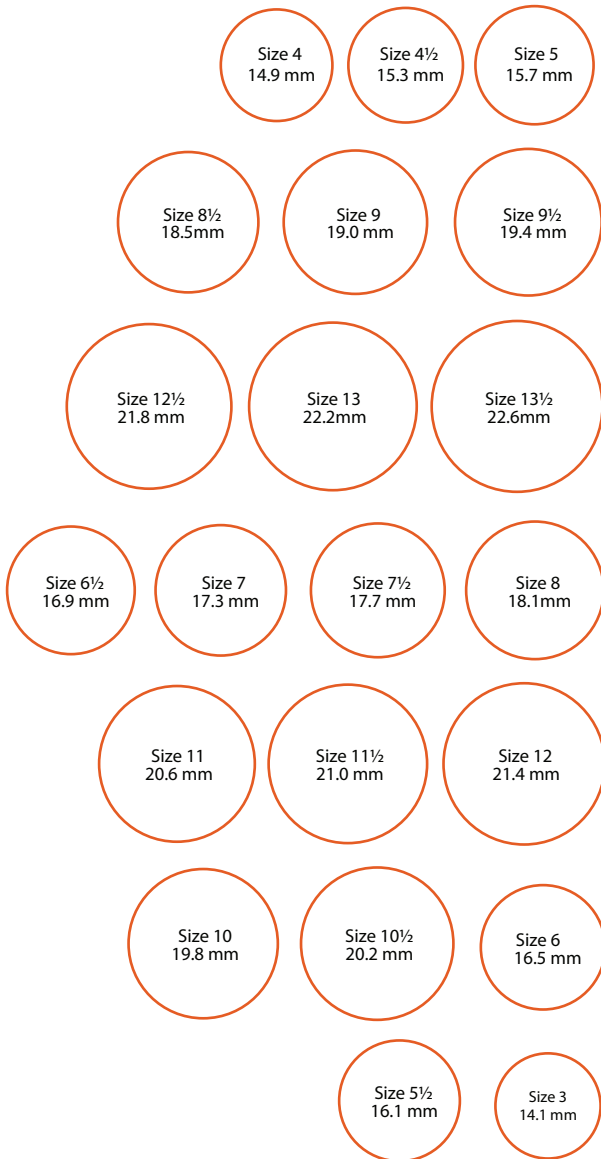

HOW TO MEASURE
YOUR RING SIZE

Use a quarter to make sure this page is printed at the correct size. please uncheck all "Scale to Fit Page" checkboxes when printing.

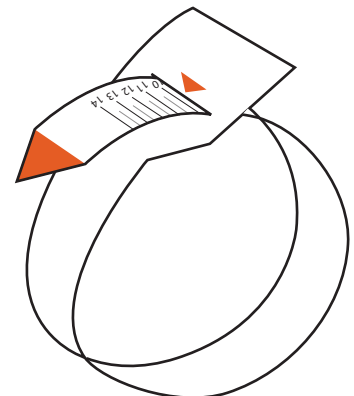

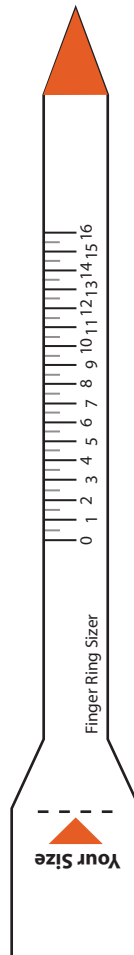

1 MATCH A RING

1. Print out this page and place the ring on the circle that is the closest size to the actual ring.
2. Test a few circles until you find the best fit.
3. The correct circle size should fit against the inside edge of the ring. If the ring falls between two size, order larger size.

2 PAPER RING SIZER

1. Cut out the ring sizer image provided.
2. Wrap the ring sizer around your finger with numbers facing out and use transparent tape to fix it in place.
3. When you find a good fit, note the ring size number that appears at the end of the triangle.

3 REFERENCE CHART

1. Wrap a piece of string around largest part of your finger.
2. Mark the string at the length which wraps around your finger exactly one time.
3. Measure that length of string against a standard ruler.
4. Compare against the closest circumference in the chart below to find your size.

ADDITIONAL TIPS

MAKE AN IMPRESSION

If she's in the habit of leaving any of her rings lying about, make an impression of one. A bar of soap, a piece of clay or even a piece of bread can be used to take a reliable measurement.

PUT IT IN WRITING

Trace the inside of the ring on a piece of paper which the jeweler can then use to determine an accurate measurement.

TRY IT ON FOR SIZE

Simpler still, just put one of her rings on your own finger. Push it down as far as it will go and then mark the spot with a pen. Then just show the marking to your jeweler who can measure it for you.

WHAT ARE FRIENDS FOR?

A friend of your fiancé-to-be can assist you in this endeavor. It's not uncommon for one friend to ask another for their ring size as a matter of curiosity. Just be sure you choose a friend who can keep a secret.

THE REAL DEAL

If you can bring one of her rings to the jeweler without arousing any suspicion, this is probably the safest course of action. Offer to take her jewelry to be cleaned and have the jeweler measure her ring at the same time.
